KROSSMASTER JUNIOR

RULE BOOK

This kind of story only happens in books...
If one day you wish to travel with an Enutrof or a Pandawa, you'd better think twice: Trouble starts as soon as you get to the Zaap!

Our first guy, Hip Agau, refused to pay his ticket. And the second, Mil Kluva, kept saying she could not stand that kind of transportation... Of course those who abuse tainted bamboo milk should not teleport! So they all cried out loud "Let's sail!"
If only they knew they were heading straight into the lion's den, Tiktokovitch the Xelor would have taken more time to negotiate and Choppy Sue the lop, well... she would probably have done the same thing, but she never uses her brains anyway.

So that's how you end up on a little raft in the middle of the Tigel Ocean; and how you become easy prey for the Demons of the Hours, who make you wash ashore on a heavenly island...but above all a desert island! Why? To get their kicks, of course!
Combats, adventures, tactics and twists of fate: They will test your abilities and choose the one they will release. However, our four shipwrecked adventurers are not completely alone: Their pets, looking for them, might show up to the rescue...

AIM OF THE GAME

A Krosmaster Junior game is played by 2, 3 or 4 players. It can consist of one or more adventures, as players see fit. The player that gathers the most Gallons of Glory at the end of the game is the winner.

Before getting started, players decide how many adventures they want to play. Each adventure takes between 5 and 15 minutes. The total length of the game depends on the number of adventures the players agree to.

The adventures' objectives and rules are described in the Krosmaster notebooks. Place your Krosmaster notebook in front of you and carefully read the objective and rules for your Krosmaster figure to become the ultimate champion. Enjoy!

GENERAL RULES

Scenery

To get started, place bushes and totems on the corresponding squares. The effects of the scenery must be taken into account. Bushes are obstacles: Characters cannot move through or occupy their square. Totems are blocking obstacles: They also block line of sight.

Squares

The game board squares are here to ease character movement and various actions.

Free square: A square not occupied by any character or obstacle is called a free square. 1 Kama can be on a free square.

Neighboring Squares: Squares that share a border are considered Neighboring Squares. Diagonal squares are not Neighboring Squares.

Target square: Certain effects require a Krosmaster to target a square. A Krosmaster can target a square if a straight line can be traced from the center of its square to the center of the targeted square without cutting through any space containing a blocking obstacle.

Occupied square: A square that contains a Krosmaster, a pet, a totem or a bush prevents character movement. These elements are considered obstacles. Blocking obstacles may block line of sight to certain squares and prevent them from being targeted.

Starting squares: When the adventure begins, players place their figure on a starting square. Each player must place his Krosmaster on a square with the same number as the number of players that take part in the adventure.

Kamas

Kamas represent the game currency. Kamas are not obstacles, but rather awards that each player will choose to gather or not (1  to pick up one). There can only be 1 Kama per square. Place kamas on the game board according to the following rule:

Always place
1 kama

1 kama if 2 or
4 players

1 kama if
3 players

Always place 1
kama

Gallons of Glory

Players must earn as many victory points as possible to determine the winner at the end of the game. Each adventure will award players with 1 to 3 victory points, or Gallons of Glory (GG).

As soon as a player meets the adventure's objective, he removes his figure from the game board.

The following chart shows how Gallons of Glory are shared out at the end of each adventure.

The 1 ST to complete the objective gets	3 GG
The 2 ND to complete the objective gets	2 GG
The 3 RD and 4 TH get	1 GG

Set-up

At the beginning of each adventure, the first player to roll a DOFUS  with a die goes first (players roll again in case of a tie).

The first player orients the game board so his chosen starting square is in front of him. He then places his Krosmaster on that square. In clockwise order, the other players place their Krosmaster on their starting square.

YOUR KROSMASTER FIGURES

At the beginning of a Krosmaster Junior game, players choose a figure and agree on the number of adventures.

Characters

Krosmaster figures:

Pet tokens:

Krosmasters and pets are characters and blocking obstacles.

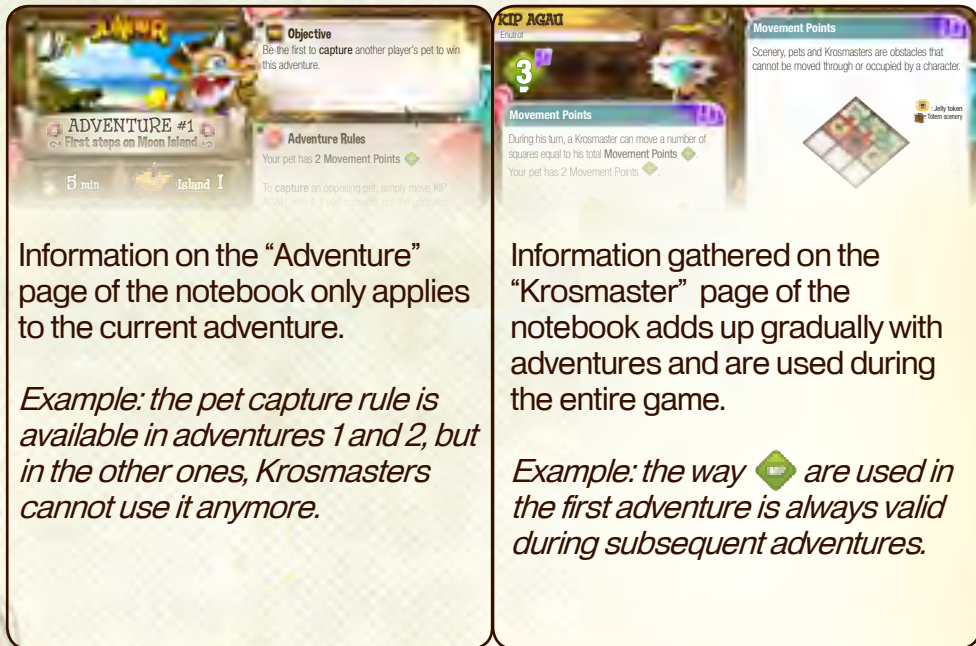

A Krosmaster is an adventurer who fights and rises to the challenges set by the Demons of the Hours. On the game board, they are represented by a figure.

A pet is a small creature that can help an adventurer. On the game board, it is represented by a token.

Choose a Krosmaster figure among the available four (or assign them randomly) and look at their characteristics on their Krosmaster notebook. Pet characteristics are directly printed on the Pet token.

Krosmaster notebooks

At the beginning of an adventure, each player gets his Krosmaster notebook and places it in front of him. The stakes of the adventure are on the first page of your Krosmaster notebook, characteristics of your character on the other page. All players are part of the same adventure.

Information on the “Adventure” page of the notebook only applies to the current adventure.

Example: the pet capture rule is available in adventures 1 and 2, but in the other ones, Krosmasters cannot use it anymore.

Information gathered on the “Krosmaster” page of the notebook adds up gradually with adventures and are used during the entire game.

Example: the way  are used in the first adventure is always valid during subsequent adventures.

Rolling the dice

 = Lock  = Dodge  = Armour  = Critical Hit

Dice roll:

- If the dice shows , ,  or : Perform the corresponding action.
- If the dice shows : You choose  or .
- If the dice shows : You choose , ,  or .

Chest

During an adventure, players fill their chest with various elements they're awarded. When a new adventure begins, all chests must be emptied.

Player's Turn

Players must play their characters (Krosmaster and Pets) one after the other, starting with the Krosmaster.

Action Points

Action Points are used to accomplish character actions and spells. During his turn, a character can use any or all of his Action Points. Unused  are lost.

Movement Points

Movement points are used to move characters to nearby squares. During his turn, a character can use any or all of his Movement Points. Squares moved through must be free squares. Unused  are lost

ENDGAME

The player who gathered the most Gallons of Glory at the end of all the adventures wins the game. In case of a tie, compare the result of the last adventure, then the previous one if there is still a tie, and so on

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Does a Krosmaster have to pick up the kama in his square?

- No. A figure and a Kama may share the same square, with no penalty.

Can a Krosmaster move on or occupy a square with a pet?

- No. To move on a square occupied by a pet, the Krosmaster must capture it (adventures 1 and 2).

Can a Krosmaster attack his own pets?

- No! They love them too much to do that. Likewise, pets cannot attack their master.

What about the pets in adventures 1 and 2?

- Each player gets 1 pet of the same color as his character (the token with an illustrated pet on each side). During the set-up, after a player has placed their Krosmaster figure on their starting square, put the pet token in a neighboring square. Pets always play after the Krosmaster. Your pet will try to avoid being captured by other Krosmasters, and your Krosmaster will try to capture another player's pet.

How can I capture another player's pet?

- In order to capture another player's pet and put it in their chest, a Krosmaster must move to its square. The captured pet and the capturing Krosmaster are removed from the game board. A player who is left with only one character (Krosmaster or pet) keeps playing.

How do we dispatch Gallons of Glory at the end of an adventure?

- The first player to meet the objective of the adventure earns 3 Gallons of Glory (GG). The second player gets 2 GG, and third and fourth players are tied; they each get 1 GG but they can finish the adventure if they want to. During adventures 3 and 6, the amount of Kama in each Krosmaster's chest defines their ranking.

What about the Kanniball cages in adventure 4?

- During this adventure, each pet starts in captivity in a cage. Before set-up, all cage tokens  are flipped so that their cage side is visible. They are then shuffled and placed randomly on the corresponding squares. Cages are considered obstacles, like bushes. A Krosmaster can inflict 1 injury to the cage with the “punch” action. A cage has 2. A Krosmaster can set free a pet of his own color if the cage has no more .

What about the Kanniball cages in adventure 5?

- Before the set-up, all cage tokens are  flipped so their cage side is visible, and shuffled. Place them randomly on the corresponding squares and then flip them on the other side.

In adventure 5, in which order should I play my pets?

- They can be played in any order, but you must finish a pet’s turn before playing another pet. Don’t forget that pets always play after your Krosmaster figure.

What about the pets in adventure 7?

- A Krosmaster may spend  and some kamas while on a Demon square to receive a pet of his color. The pet is placed on a square next to that Krosmaster.

Can one pass through a Kanniball cage square?

- No. A character cannot move through or stop their movement on a square occupied by a Kanniball cage.

Can one buy several pets on a “Demon” square?

- Yes, as long as your Krosmaster is left with at least 1 to use and enough kama to spend, they can buy a pet.

GAME STEPS

- 1 Each player chooses a figure.
- 2 Set up the game board.
- 3 Roll for first player.
- 4 According to turn order, each player places his figure on a starting square.
- 5 First player starts. During his turn, a Krosmaster can:
 - Use Movement Points to move.
 - Use Action Points to pick up kamas, punch...
- 6 Keep in mind the objective and its victory condition.
- 7 When all players meet the objective, write down their GG on the score notepad.
- 8 Move on to the next adventure!
